

The Body Shop launches global training program with TransPerfect

“
The impressive level of client service at TransPerfect is what made our relationship work so well. No timeline was too challenging and the quality of language review remained high throughout the project.

”

- International Retail Specialist
The Body Shop

Leading beauty brands like The Body Shop understand that global workforces require global training programs. With new and improved cruelty-free cosmetics hitting the shelves each month, The Body Shop chose TransPerfect to translate and subtitle regular videos, brand tutorials, and best practice materials to keep its workforce informed in all markets.